WWU SERVICE DAY

Twice a year for more than a decade the whole Walla Walla University community has participated in "Service Day," a locally-focused volunteering event where students, faculty, and staff bless area individuals and organizations with a few hours of elbow grease and smiles. Service Day is organized by the WWU chaplain's office and this year specifically by WWU students Cameron Fitzgerald and Ansel Weber. On the first Service Day of 2018 (Wednesday, October 17), the coordinators anticipate nearly 40 different projects and more than 400 students participating. A yearly Service Day tradition involves the University Church staff serving student volunteers breakfast before the festivities begin. If you have an interest in supporting students along with the church staff, contact Pastor Troy Fitzgerald, who leads the effort each year. Thank you from the University Church community to all who participate in making Service Day a positive impact in the Walla Walla Valley!

SABBATH SEMINAR

Most Sabbath mornings during the WWU academic year, a dedicated team of professors and church leaders organize a series of insightful lectures and conversations engaging Adventist spirituality with culture, the arts, history, the built environment, science, and the human condition. Meeting on Sabbaths at 10:30am in the Canaday Technology Center auditorium room 105, Sabbath Seminar has featured guest visitors as well as many wise, gifted, and knowledgeable local members speaking about their fields. This week, Sabbath Seminar features Dr. Terrie Aamodt, professor of History at WWU. All are welcome to join this community of thinkers who are warm and inviting to all visitors and "regulars in the making." Please contact interim member care pastor Bev Beem with any questions you might have about Sabbath Seminar: beverly.beem@wallawalla.edu.

Are you looking for a good old-fashioned Sabbath School? Why not try "Renew"? Renew is a small, close-knit group of students who meet in the Havstad Alumni Center every Sabbath morning starting at 10am. We have food, sing hymns around the piano and then break off for discussion groups led by students and professors alike. We want to extend a warm welcome to community members and would love to see your smiling faces. Join us!

The Spanish Translation Team is recruiting bilingual Spanish/English speakers to interpret the University Church worship service. If you are interested in joining this ministry, contact Sandra Graham at 509.526.8011.

FORUM Meeting in VILLAGE HALL You are invited to join FORUM members today at 4pm for a discussion concerning recent proposals by the General Conference (GC) leadership to enforce uniform "compliance" with GC policy and church doctrine. These proposals represent a heavy handed approach to "church discipline" which have raised alarms in many quarters of the church. They would centralize more authority than ever in a relatively small group. Multiple unions, conferences, and local churches have written in opposition to these proposals which will be discussed at the "Fall Council" meetings which take place October 11-17. Please join Drs. Bev Beem, Gregory Dodds, Dave Thomas, and Alden Thompson for a panel discussion about these developments.

The Organ Recital scheduled for today has been canceled due to scheduling conflicts.

GIVE

Thank you for your generosity to the local ministry of the University Church, as well as to the global mission of the Adventist Church. Today, the loose offering goes to the Upper Columbia Conference budget.

To donate to the University Church budget, please mark it on your tithe envelope or select it in the online giving portal via the church's website. Donations to the University Church budget fund all local ministries, including youth and children, WWVA and Rogers subsidies, broadcast, worship, and the upkeep of the church campus. Thank you for your support and dedication to this community!

The chart below compares giving to the University Church Budget in 2017 with giving so far in 2018.

MUSIC NOTE

We welcome two special musicians. Jeremy Irland, of the WWU voice faculty, also serves as director of music for the Prescott school district. It is always a joy to hear him sing. We also welcome Kendra Haugen, a senior from Medford, Oregon, studying music and chemistry. Please join me in thanking them both for sharing their music with us.

In the offertory English composer Frances Allitsen sets a paraphrase of Psalm 27. As you prepare to worship I invite you to consider this psalm, some of which is given here:

*The Lord is my light and my salvation;
whom shall I fear?*

*The Lord is the strength of my life;
of whom shall I be afraid?*

When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

*Though an host should encamp against me,
my heart shall not fear:*

*Though war should rise against me,
in this will I be confident.*

—Kraig Scott
