Tuesday: Jody Washburn and Alex Aamodt

They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Everyone was filled with awe at the many wonders and signs performed by the apostles. All the believers were together and had everything in common. They sold property and possessions to give to anyone who had need. Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved.

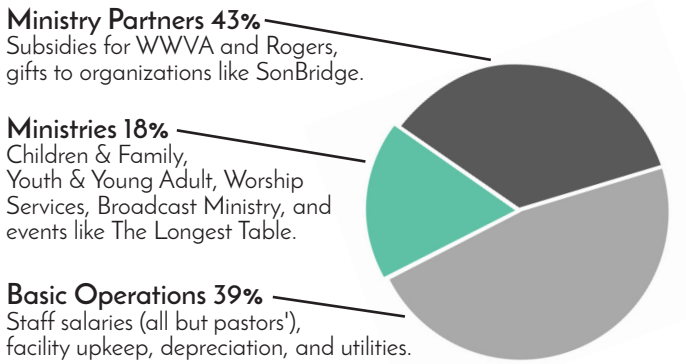
GIVE

Thank you for your generosity to the local ministry of the University Church, as well as to the global mission of the Adventist Church. Today, the loose offering goes toward the University Church budget. The following graphic illustrates broadly how these donations are allocated.

DONATIONS MARKED "UNIVERSITY CHURCH BUDGET":



MUSIC NOTE

We begin our service today with a setting of Hymn No.285, "Jesus Calls Us." I Cantori sings the first and last verses, followed by Emma Lou Diemer's setting of the piece for organ. The composer writes that it is to be played "slowly, with great expression," giving us the opportunity to reflect on the gentle but insistent call of our Lord to follow Him wherever He leads us. Thank you to the singers of I Cantori and our local Walla Walla organist Lanny Collins for leading us in worship together.

I Cantori presents three pieces by three living composers, each with a different thematic focus: love, joy, and peace. First, we are reminded that God loves us as His own children in the sweet, delicate piece by James MacMillan. Naturally, a celebration follows in Paul John Rudoi's "Yonder Come Day." This composition references the well-known spirituals "Steal Away," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," which yearn for an eternal future with the loving Father. The offertory is a call for Christ's present and perfect peace to flood our lives, depicted in the soft, lilting piano accompaniment.

The postlude closes our service with a moment of gratitude for the safety and peace Christ has given to us. This particular setting is based on the chorale by J.S Bach, "Jesus Christus, unser Heiland," or "Jesus Christ, who freed our souls from danger." The intense and passionate richness of this piece reflects a deep and overwhelming gratitude for what Jesus accomplished for us in His work on this earth.
